

MICHELE BIRING PANI

MSC.

CAREER OVERVIEW

MSc. Michele Biring Pani is Assistant Lecturer in the Department of General Training and Vocational Development

FIELDS OF EXPERTISE

- Health Management
- Human Resources
- Health Law
- Wellness

EMAIL

m.biring@umb.edu.al

BIO

In 2001, Michele received her bachelor's degree in Biological Sciences from Southern Illinois University at Carbondale. During her studies she worked in a physiology lab supporting growth hormone studies, life expectancy studies, and soy nutrition studies on mice. She also assisted the university with administrative legal procedures by serving on the Student Judicial Board.

In 2003, she received the scientific degree Master of Science in the field of Health Systems Management from Rush University, a part of Rush's Magnet hospital which is still nationally ranked as one of the best in the USA. She received a Sigma Xi award for her research in smoking cessation. During her studies she was trained through internships in information systems in Cardiology and human resources.

With industry experience in a variety of settings, from long-term care, pharmacy, wellness programs, clinical group practices, and hospitals, her experience includes areas of direct clinical care as well as finance, ICT, and marketing. However, most of her time has been spent in human resources, holding the SPHR certification by HRCI.

Her international research publications highlighted the gap in Albanian law regarding advanced directives via surrogates and living wills. She serves as Project Director.